

Memorandum of Understanding on Academic Exchange between
College of Engineering, Chonnam National University, REPUBLIC OF KOREA and Graduate School of Engineering, Faculty of Engineering, and College of Engineering Science, Yokohama National University, JAPAN

College of Engineering, Chonnam National University, REPUBLIC OF KOREA and Graduate School of Engineering, Faculty of Engineering, and College of Engineering Science, Yokohama National University, JAPAN agree to establish this academic exchange agreement with the following articles to promote academic exchange and friendship between Republic of Korea and Japan.

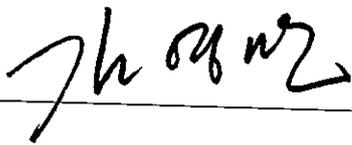

Article 1, Both universities shall endeavor to realize the following terms:

- A. The two universities dispatch professors, researchers and staffs to each other for the purpose of education and research.
 - (1) The expenses of the visit and stay shall be borne by the applicant or the sending university.
 - (2) The accommodating university will strive to cover the related research expenses and other expenses.
- B. The two universities shall dispatch graduate students to each other for the purpose of study and research.
 - (1) Each university will send at most 2 exchange students annually for a period of study of less than one year.
However, the period may be extended under mutual consultation.
 - (2) The status of an exchange student shall be as a special part-time student or a special research student.
 - (3) Exchange students will be selected by the sending university, and the accommodating university shall respect this decision.
 - (4) Expenses shall be borne by the exchange student or the sending university.
 - (5) The accommodating university shall inform the sending university of the exchange students' grades. Recognition of credits will be determined by the accommodating university in accordance with their respective regulations.
- C. Both universities will cooperate in the exchange of scholarly materials and other information with joint research activities, symposiums, seminars and workshops.

Article 2, This academic exchange agreement may be amended after both universities have consulted and mutually consented the matter that needs to be amended.

Article 3, This academic exchange agreement is valid for five years from the date signed by the representatives of both universities. The two universities may revise this document by mutual agreement anytime before six months of the date of expiry of this document, and if no revisions are necessary, this agreement will be automatically renewed as is for five years.

Date : Nov. 17. 2017

Ph.D. Youngman Kim
Dean
College of Engineering
Chonnam National University

Date : November 17, 2017

Dr. Eng. Masayoshi Watanabe
Dean
Graduate School of Engineering,
Faculty of Engineering, and College of Engineering Science
Yokohama National University